SNEED JURY DISCHARGED

UNABLE TO AGREE ON VERDICT. TRIAL LASTED AN MONTH. JURY OUT FIVE DAYS.

Fort Worth, Tex., Feb. 29.—After having been deliberating since last Saturday night about 10 o'clock, the jurors in the case of the State of Texas vs. J. B. Sneed, charged by indictment with killing A. O. Boyce Sr. in this city on Jan. 13, were discharged from duty by Judge Swayne this morning because they had been unable to agree upon a verdict.

One juror said they had stood seven to five for acquittal. Another declared that with one exception they were for conviction in some degree and that the vote of seven for acquittal was to influence those who held out for a murder conviction to consent to some verdict on which all could unite.

The jurors were given their liberty this morning at 10 o'clock after Judge Swayne had made a few remarks to them. The defendant, J. B. Sneed, and his father, brothers and other relatives were in the court room when the jury was discharged. Sneed is still under the $35,000 bond which he gave when he was released at the habeas corpus hearing. He will leave Fort Worth for the present. None of the members of the Boyce family were in the court room during the final act of this famous trial.

The first juror was selected thirty-two days ago and the last five days later. The jurors united in addressing a letter of thanks for the treatment they have received at the hands of Deputy Sheriff Toll Johnson.

NEW INTEREST IN M'ALESTER ADALINE

McALESTER CITIZENS MAY TAKE UP OLD PROJECT AND COMPLETE IT.

McAlester, Ok., Feb. 29.—At a mass meeting of the citizens of McAlester tonight, it was unanimously voted to raise $200,000 for the building of a railroad running from McAlester in the direction of Ada, Okla., a distance of about 50 miles. A committee was appointed to draw up the articles of incorporation. The road will be built by Col. C. C. Goodman of Fort Smith, Ark., a prominent railroad builder, and it is expected that actual construction will be commenced within sixty days, and that the line will be built ready for operation within six months.

The line when completed, will connect with the M., O. & G., Oklahoma Central, Frisco and Santa Fe.

POTATO GROWERS EFFECT ORGANIZATION

The potato growers of Pontotoc county have organized with a membership of seventeen. A. J. Deaton is the president and R. F. Wilborn of Lakman secretary.

It is the aim of this organization to devote more attention to growing potatoes in quantities that will enable it to market their product in car load lots, thereby getting the best price obtainable. If potatoes are raised in a large scale they can be sold on the tracks and buyers will be here during the season to snap them up as fast as offered. The association will hold another meeting on the fourth Saturday in March at which time Mr. White, the horticultural commissioner of the Frisco lines, will be present and aid in extending the organization and to give the members some advice on matters of marketing. These associations have proved highly successful in other sections and one can do much here, if properly managed.

In addition to potatoes, Mr. Wilborn is much interested in peanut culture. He has experimented with them at Oakman and finds that the soil is especially adapted to their growth. Not only do they make first class feed for stock, but a factory could be built at Ada with sufficient capacity to take over all that is raised in the county.

Miss Nanon Noble, who has been a student in the normal, left this morning for her home at Clovis, New Mexico.

TWO MORE BUILDINGS FOR 12TH ST.

RAYBURN & HOUP WILL BUILD TWO MORE ON NORTH SIDE OF STREET.

A deal has just been closed by which H. C. Evans becomes the owner of the Houpt & Rayburn building just completed on 12th street. It is understood that the consideration was $5,000.

The immediate result of this transfer means the erection of two more two story buildings by Messrs. Rayburn & Houpt just across the street from the one just completed, thereby showing their confidence in the future of that street and at the same time adding to the business property of the town. It is stated that building operations will begin within sixty days.

Evidently those who have figured that Ada will not do much building this year, have another guess coming. The buildings of S. M. Shaw and the Ada Investment Co. on East Main these two and the Frisco depot will do very well for a beginning, and by the close of the year one may reasonably expect to see some big work under way.

appearance of Colonel Roosevelt as a candidate is going to make the campaign a bitter one within the republican party.

"Old time and long time friendships among the candidates is very likely to be destroyed more thoroughly, that is that between Wilson and Waterman in the democratic ranks. Senator LaFollette's managers are accusing Mr. Roosevelt of the most outrageous treachery in first inducing the senator to become a candidate and then throwing him overboard and taking his place in the boat.

LaFollette's managers are also very bitter toward Senator Cummins and accuse him also of the vilest treachery. They claim that Cummins came to LaFollette and said "Bob, I am for you first, last and all the time and then turned around and announced himself a candidate!"

But more important still will be the bitterness between the managers and followers of Taft and Roosevelt. The followers accusing Roosevelt of the most fearful treachery of all in that he put Taft forward four years ago, urged him on the country and now is trying to beat him out of the nomination for a second term, and get himself nominated for a third term!

Heretofore at the time of a national election the democrats have done most of the scuffling and the republicans have stood by and jeered, but lively as the democratic scrap is now, the republican scrap promises to be a bit livelier!

COULD NOT HOLD NAPOLEON

In the Disguise of a Workman Future Emperor Passed Guard at Fortress of Ham.

In discussing the origin of Louis Napoleon's nickname of "Badinguet" some details were given incidentally of his escape from the fortress of Ham in northern France on May 25, 1846. Fuller details are now available, thanks to the researches of M. Thirria, and in view of the escape of Capt. Lux they have a special interest at the present moment.

It seems that the sole credit for the escape must lie with Louis Napoleon himself. He made his valet, Thelin, buy a black wig, some rouge, a cap which was scrubbed with pumice stone and a pair of sabots. Then he cut off his mustache, put on a blue apron, a blue pair of trousers and a close fitting shirt of coarse stuff.

Some workmen were carrying out some repairs to that part of the fortress where the prince lodged and this gave color to his disguise, so much so that the two watchmen entertained no suspicious regarding the man who walked past them and out at the great gate, a pipe in his mouth and a plank on his shoulder. The sergeant on duty at the drawbridge was reading a letter as he passed and took no notice of him. It was then 5 o'clock in the morning.

Four times that day, the last time at 5 in the afternoon, did the Governor, Demare, send for the prince. Each time Dr. Conneau replied that the prisoner could not see anybody because he had taken medicine. When at last the governor lost patience and went himself to the prince's room and walked up to the bed on which the supposed invalid was lying he discovered that a very presentable dummy had taken the place of Louis Napoleon. The discovery was made too late. By that time the fugitive was over the Belgian frontier.

EXCITEMENT OF SOME KIND

Unregenerate, Long Barred From Scenes of "Pleasure," Ready With Inventive Facilities.

"Boze" Bulger, the baseball writer, tells this story on "Germany" Schaefer, says the New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Times-Star. Bulger allows that when Schaefer returned from Cuba two years ago he plumbed for entertainment. So they framed up a soiree at the home of one of his friends. The lady of the house was hospitable, but prudish. There are a lot of things in this world she doesn't believe in. But she permitted the gathering to have a few hods of foam. "Now," said Mr. Schaefer, brushing the dust off his cheekbones, "bring on the cards and we'll have a little game. Ten-cent limit."

"We have no cards in this house," said the stern-faced hostess. "I do not believe in gambling."

"Oh, all right," said Mr. Schaefer. "Mebbe some one's got some dice. We'll roll the bones to see who goes next time to the corner."

"We have no dice, Mr. Schaefer," said the lady of the house, acidly. "I tell you that I do not permit gambling in this house."

"No gambling, hey," said Mr. Schaefer. "No gambling at all, uh? Have you any washtubs?"

She said yes, she had lots of washtubs.

"Fine," said Mr. Schaefer, heartily. "Now, you get me a watermelon and three tubs—and I'll work the three-shell game."

Thoughtfulness.

It is a pleasant bit of thoughtfulness which many hostesses show in leaving reading matter on the table of their guest room. A guest is frequently not accustomed to the same hours of rising and going to bed as prevail in the house where she is visiting. She may have a habit of early rising or of sleeplessness, or she may have merely a short time in her room with nothing to do, when she does not wish to go down stairs or elsewhere to obtain books. At such a time a new book, an interesting magazine or two would prove most grateful. It is not necessary to have a whole guest room bookcase. One or two well-chosen books will serve the purpose quite as well. It is a distinct compliment to a guest to have put enough thought into her tastes and interest to be able to offer her just the book or just the article which she would wish to read. While this is not always possible, with the best intentions, something bright, readable and new will rarely go amiss.

Life From Dead Material.

Evidence that living plants or animals are still being produced from lifeless materials is offered by a British scientist. In experiments described at the Royal Institution, they sterilized inorganic fluids with many precautions, heating for five to twenty minutes as high as 175 degrees C, although bacteria are destroyed at 55 degrees. The fluid seemed unchanged after six or seven months. Its sediment, however, was found to contain microscopic organisms, and these were proven to be living by their great growth in a few days in an incubator.

QUARTER-INCH STRIP OF LAND CAUSES TROUBLE

Guthrie, Ok., Feb. 29.—Deputy Sheriff Tom Tarrants executed an order, issued by District Judge Huston, dispossessing the Patterson Furniture Company, W. K. and Nathan Patterson of a quarter-inch strip of land, twenty-five feet long, that lies between the rear foundation of Mrs. Nora Meyer's small brick building, facing First street, and the Patterson building, facing Harrison avenue. Several years ago Mrs. Meyer sued the Patterson company to recover possession of a half-inch strip of land, twenty-five feet long, and secured judgment. It developed later, however, that a block of wood, a part of the Patterson foundation, overlapped half way across the half inch strip of land which she had contested for and it was for the purpose of making the Pattersons knock off this piece of block that she secured the court order yesterday.

Armed with a cross-cut saw and an ax, Tarrants went to the alley, back of the Patterson store, yesterday to execute the court order. He found upon arrival, however, that the Pattersons themselves had already removed a quarter-inch from the offending block of wood.

It is understood today that a rear window of the Meyer building, the foundation of which is cement, sticks across the disputed half-inch of land to such an extent that it rubs up against Patterson building. Because of Mrs. Meyer's determination to make the Pattersons obey the court order, even to a quarter of an inch, it is said the Pattersons, in turn, will compel her to whittle off her cement window until it does not project over the line of her own property.

CONFEDERATES WILL MEET SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Sunday afternoon will be the regular meeting time of the Confederate veterans as well as the Sons. The veterans will elect delegates to the Macon reunion and will also fix the time for the state reunion that will be held at Ada sometime during the summer.

The latter proposition is one that demands no little attention not only from the veterans themselves, but from the citizens at large. As stated before, it is probable that 2,000 or 3,000 visitors will be in Ada during the reunion, and it is time that active work on preparations for the reunion were begun. For this reason the veterans and sons desire a good attendance at Sunday's meeting. The meeting will be held at the court house at Oakman secretary.

ALMOST A MILLION MINERS ON STRIKE

London, Feb. 29.—Settlement of the threatened coal strike is yet far off. The government has not been able to induce all the coal owners to agree to the demand for a minimum wage made by the miners, but Premier Asquith declared tonight that if the principle of minimum wage was not obtained by agreement it would be by other means.

Fully 800,000 miners have already laid down their tools and will not pick them up again until an agreement satisfactory to the Miners' Federation is reached. The men have the government behind them and feel that victory has been won.

It was officially announced late tonight that the conference of the Cabinet ministers with the Miners' Federation will be continued tomorrow. Chancellor Lloyd-George is drafting a minimum wage bill, but it is stated the government is hopeful of establishing a minimum wage scale without recourse to legislation now that the Welsh mine owners see they are powerless to resist longer.

Some of the railways have sent out notification of curtailment of their services, owing to the strike.

LIBERAL PENSIONS FOR CONFEDERATES

Frankfort, Ky., March 1.—Pensions of $10 a month are provided for indigent Kentucky Confederate soldiers in an amended senate bill which passed the lower house of the Kentucky legislature today. An amendment striking out a provision that veterans over 65 years of age be deemed indigent was carried, and, it is said, will be accepted by the senate. The state will pay about $100,000 annually in pensions.

"Gun licenses" of $1 a year for Kentucky hunters and $15 for hunters in Kentucky from other states are provided in a bill creating a state fish and game commission, and which passed the senate today. The license fees will be applied to the maintenance of the commission and establishment of fish hatcheries in the state, provided the measure, yet to reach the house, becomes a law.

The postmen began their work this morning, and Ada enjoyed her first experience with free delivery.

HELPFUL HINTS ON HAIR HEALTH

Scalp and Hair Troubles Generally Caused by Carelessness

Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a microbe which also produces baldness. Never use a comb or brush belonging to some one else. No matter how cleanly the owner may be, these articles may be infected with microbes, which will infect your scalp. It is far easier to catch hair microbes than it is to get rid of them, and a single stroke of an infected comb or brush may well lead to baldness. Never try on anybody else's hat. Many a hatband is a resting place for microbes.

If you happen to be troubled with dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair or baldness, we have a remedy which we believe will completely relieve these troubles. We are so sure of this that we offer it to you with the understanding that it will cost you nothing for the trial if it does not produce the results we claim. This remedy is called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We honestly believe it to be the most scientific remedy for scalp and hair troubles, and we know of nothing else that equals it for effectiveness, because of the results it has produced in thousands of cases.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is devised to banish dandruff, restore natural color when its loss has been brought about by disease, and make the hair naturally silky, soft, and glossy. It does this because it stimulates the hair follicles and destroys the germ matter, and brings about a free, healthy circulation of blood, which nourishes the hair roots, causing them to tighten and grow new hair. We want everybody who has any trouble with hair or scalp to know that we think that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is the best hair tonic and restorative in existence, and no one should scoff at or doubt this statement until they have put our claim to a fair test with the understanding that they pay us nothing for the remedy if it does not give full and complete satisfaction in every particular. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall remedies in Ada only at our store—The Rexall store—Gwin & Mays Drug Co.

TELEPHONE COMPANY MAKING IMPROVEMENTS

Another evidence of the substantial growth of Ada is found in the local exchange of the Pioneer Telephone Co. During the past three or four years the company has been constantly adding its equipment to keep pace with the demands made upon it, and now it is adding another section to the board which will increase its capacity by 150. The room that has formerly been used for toll service is being converted into a rest room for the girls, and the toll booths will be moved across the street to the office of the manager in the rear of the First National bank, thus removing the necessity of any one having to go upstairs to the central office. Other minor improvements are also under way and the Ada exchange is being kept right up to date.

This morning Manager Thatcher showed the reporter through the exchange and took occasion to explain some of the many intricate details of the concern. Remembering the appearance of the first exchange he visited some sixteen years ago, the reporter readily concluded that the man who perfected the modern exchange was one with a real head on him. Another thing that will impress any one is the rapidity with which the operators handle the calls. People sometimes complain about slow responses, but the way calls come in at times, the only wonder is that the girls are able to keep their heads and temper at all. Mr. Thatcher stated that when the fire whistle blows half or more of the drops fall at once, and it sometimes keeps the operators hustling for several minutes before the last inquiry is answered.

At present the local force consists of twelve girls and four men, a total of sixteen employees.

Notice to Parents.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—The story opens on Long Island near New York City, where Miss Emily French, a relative of Ethan French, manufacturer of the celebrated "Mercury" automobile, loses her way. The car has stopped and her cousin Dick French is too muddled with drink to direct it. They meet another car named Lestrangle. The latter fixes up the French car and directs Miss French how to proceed homeward, but seeing that her cousin is in no condition to accompany her, forcibly detains Dick French, for which the young lady is thankful.

CHAPTER II.—Ethan French has disinherited his son, who has disappeared. He is growing old and tells Emily that she is the only one of the family to whom he can leave his wealth. He informs her plainly that he would like to have her marry Dick, who could carry on the business. Dick is a good-natured, but irresponsible fellow.

CHAPTER III.—It appears that a partner of Ethan French, wanting an expert to race with the "Mercury" at auto events, has engaged Lestrangle, and at the French factory Emily encounters the young man. They refer pleasantly to their first meeting when Dick comes alone and recognizes the young racer.

CHAPTER IV.—Dick likes the way Lestrangle ignores their first meeting when he appeared to a disadvantage. They become quite friendly, and Lestrangle tells Emily that he will try to make something out of her indifferent cousin and educate him as an automobile expert.

CHAPTER V.—Dick undertakes his business schooling under the tutelage of Lestrangle. Dick is sheer grit, and making a test race meets with an accident. Lestrangle sticks to him bravely, and Dick disclaims any intention of marrying her.

CHAPTER VI.—Lestrangle comes upon Emily in the moonlight garden at the French home. Under an impulse he cannot control he kisses her and she leaves him, confessing in her own heart that she returns his love.

"I have driven racing cars and managed this factory to earn my living, having no other dependence than upon myself, but my blood is as old as yours, little girl, if that means anything."

"Not to me," she cried, looking up into his eyes. "Not to me, but to him, I cared for you."

He drew her toward him, unresisting, their gaze still on each other. As from the first, there was no shyness between them, but the strange, exquisite understanding now made perfect.

"I was right to come to you," he declared, after a time. "Right to fear that you were troubled, conscientious lady. But I must go back, or there will be a fine disturbance at the beach. And I have shattered my other plans to insignificant fragments, or you have. If I did not forget by moonlight that you were Emily French, I certainly forgot everything else."

She looked up at him, her soft-tinted face bright as his own, her yellow hair ruffled into flossy tendrils under the black ribbon binding it.

"Everything else?" she echoed. "Is there anything else but this?"

"Nothing that counts, to me. You for my own, and this good world to live in—I stand bareheaded before it all. But yet, I told you once that I had a purpose to accomplish; a purpose now very near completion. In a few months I meant to leave Frenchwood."

Emily gave a faint cry.

"Yes, for my work would have been done. Then I fell in love and upset everything. When I tell Mr. French that I want you, I will have to leave at once."

"Why? You said—"

"How brave are you, Emily?" he asked. "I said your uncle could not question my name or birth, but I did not say he would want to give you to me. Nor will he; unless I am mistaken. Are you going to be brave enough to come to me, knowing he has no right to complain, since you and I together have given him Dick?"

"He does not know you; how can you tell he does not like you?" she urged.

"Do you think he likes 'Darling' Lestrangle of the race course?"

The sudden keen demand disconcerted her.

"I hear a little down there," he added. "I have not been fortunate with your kinsman. No, it is for you to say whether Ethan French's unjust caprice is a bar between us. To me it is none."

"I thought there was to be no more trouble," she faltered, distressed.

Lestrangle looked down at her steadily, his gray eyes darkening to an expression she had never seen.

"Have I no right?" was his question. "Is there no canceling of a claim, is there no subsequent freedom? Is it all no use, Emily?"

Vaguely awed and frightened, her fingers tightened on his arm in a panic of surrender.

"I will come to you, I will come! You know best what is right—I trust you to tell me. Forgive me, dear, I wanted to—"

He silenced her, all the light flashing back to his face.

"A promise; hush! Oh, I shall win tonight with that slinging in my ears. I have more to say to you, but not now. I must see Bailey, somehow, before I go."

"He is at the house; let me send him here to you."

"If you come back with him."

"They laughed together."

"I will—Do you know," her color deepened rosily, "they call you 'Darling'! I have never heard your own name."

"My name is David," Lestrangle said quietly, and kissed her for farewell.

The earth danced under Emily's feet as she ran across the lawns, the sun glowed warm, the brook tinkled over the cascades in a very madness of mirth. At the head of the veranda steps she turned to look once more at the roof of the white pavilion among the locust trees.

"Uncle will like you when he knows you," she laughed in her heart. "Any one must like you."

The servant she met in the hall said that Mr. Bailey had gone out, and Mr. French, also, but separately, the former having taken the short route across toward the factory. That way Emily went in pursuit, intending to overtake him with her pony cart.

But upon reaching the stables, past which the path ran, she found Bailey himself engaged in an inspection of the limousine in company with the chauffeur.

"You'll have to look into her differential, Anderson," he was pronouncing, when the young girl came beside him.

"Come, please," she urged breathlessly.

"Come?" repeated Bailey, wheeling, with his slow, benevolent smile. "Sure, Miss Emily; where?"

She shook her head, not replying until they were safely outside; then:

"To Mr. Lestrangle; he is in the pavilion. He wants to see you."

"To Lestrangle!" he almost shouted, halting. Lestrangle here?"

"Yes. There is time; he says there is time. He is going back as soon as he sees you."

"But what's he doing here? What does he mean by risking his neck without any practice?"

"He came to see me," she whispered, and stood confessed.

"God!" said Bailey, quite reverently, after a moment of speechless stupefaction. "You, and him!"

She lifted confiding eyes to him, moving nearer.

"It is a secret, but I wanted you to know because you like us both. Dick said you loved Mr. Lestrangle."

"Yes," was the dazed assent.

"Well, then—But come, he is waiting."

She was sufficiently unlike the usual Miss French to bewilder any one. Bailey dumbly followed her across the park, carrying his hat in his hand.

A short distance from the pavilion Emily stopped abruptly, turning a startled face to her companion.

"Some one is there," she said.

"Some one is speaking. I forgot that Uncle Ethan had gone out."

She heard Bailey catch his breath oddly. Her own pulses began to beat with heavy irregularity, as a few steps farther brought the two opposite the open arcade. There they halted, frozen.

In the place Emily had left, where all her feminine toys still lay, Mr. French was seated as one exhausted by the force of overmastering emotion.

Motherhood

The highest point of woman's happiness is reached only through motherhood, in the clasping of her child within her arms. Yet the mother-to-be is often fearful of nature's ordeal and shrinks from the suffering incident to its consummation. But for nature's ills and discomforts nature provides remedies, and in Mother's Friend is to be found a medicine of great value to every expectant mother. It is an emulsion for external application, composed of ingredients which act with beneficial and soothing effect on those portions of the system involved. It is intended to prepare the system for the crisis, and thus relieve, in great part, the suffering through which the mother usually passes. The regular use of Mother's Friend will repay any mother in the comfort it affords before, and the helpful restoration to health and strength it brings about after baby comes.

conceived him, listening in absolute silence to the bitter address pouring from the other's lips with a low-toned violence indescribable.

"I told you then, never again to come here," first fell upon Emily's conscious hearing. "I supposed you were at least French enough to take a dismissal. What do you want here, money? I warned you to live upon the allowance sent every month to your bankers, for I would pay no more even to escape the intolerable disgrace of your presence here. Did you imagine me so deserted that I would accept even you as a successor? Wrong; you are not missed. My nephew Richard takes your place, and is fit to take it. Go back to Europe and your low-born wife; there is no lack in my household."

The voice broke in an excess of savage triumph, and Lestrangle took the pause without movement or gesture.

DISTRICT COURT GRINDING RAPIDLY

Since yesterday's report the following cases have been disposed of in the district court:

Tom Williams, theft of animal, dismissed.

Cornelius Nelson, assault to kill; plea of not guilty withdrawn and plea of guilty to assault entered. Fined $25 and costs.

Brown and Sawyer, grand larceny; continued for term.

Zeph Hamm and — Phillips, riot; plea of not guilty withdrawn, plea of guilty to assault entered. Fined $25 each.

John Johnson, grand larceny, dismissed.

Eli Perkins and Ben Walston, aggravated assault, on trial.

The jury in the Braddy case has thus far been unable to agree. The juryman came into the court room during the afternoon and asked to have the testimony of Mossman and Scott read to them, and then retired for further consultation. They stated that they stood eight to four but it is not known whether the majority favored a verdict of guilty or of acquittal.

LATER—The jury in the Braddy case reported that they were utterly unable to reach an agreement, and Judge McKeown discharged them. It is stated that the vote was eight to four for conviction.

MISSOURI REPUBLICANS SPLIT TWO DELEGATIONS ELECTED

Excelsior Springs, Mo., Feb. 29.—President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt in a convention marked by disorderly scenes divided honors in a contest Thursday for delegates from the third congressional district of Missouri to the national convention at Chicago. Two Taft and two Roosevelt delegates were chosen.

The Roosevelt delegates are the first from any part of the country to be instructed for him.

The contest between the factions developed early. When the Roosevelt supporters arrived at the convention hall they found the doors barricaded and the Taft men in control. After some time the Roosevelt men were admitted. Then, amid confusion and uproar, a dual convention was held. Both factions chose delegates and alternates to the national convention and each side contends its delegates are regular.

CARTER WILL HAVE NO OPPOSITION IN PRIMARY

Ardmore, Ok., March 1.—Attorney E. P. Hill of McAlester, was here today enroute to Gainesville on a business trip. Mr. Hill is one of the original Wilson men in this state and is one of the delegates at large from the state to the national convention.

Mr. Hill in speaking on national legislation this winter, said that no bill had passed congress in recent years that meant so much to the people of his section of the state as the bill providing for the sale of the surface mineral lands. He says Charley Carter deserves the commendation of every citizen of the Fourth district for his activity and success with reference to this measure and that Pittsburg county and the other counties on that side of the district held Mr. Carter in very high regard and he does not believe the present congressman will have any opposition for re-election.

PUTTING ON THE LID AT SAPULPA

Sapulpa, Ok., March 1.—Sapulpa's cleanup will not only include "joints" and bawdy houses.

This announcement was made this morning by Vic S. Decker, county attorney, who stated that the "Blue Laws" would be enforced in the city beginning next Sunday.

"Every theatre must be closed. Every business must be closed and I am going to take drastic measures to put the Sunday closing laws into effect, starting with next Sunday," stated Mr. Decker this morning.

"It is the desire of the people to have a clean town. It is also the desire of the county attorney's office to have a clean town. It is up to the county attorney's office to make a clean town and we are certainly going to do it."

Heretofore theatres have been open on Sunday. Cigar stands and in fact most every line of business has been allowed to thrive on the Sabbath day. County Attorney Decker says that the theatres will not be opened Sunday and if they are that their owners will be arrested and placed under heavy bond and tried for violating the Oklahoma statutes governing the Sunday closing.

The Guthrie Leader is still sore on the delegation from Logan county to by rigid instructions for Clark. On the state convention which was bound arriving at the convention, however, the delegation bolted its instructions, and the mildest term the Leader has used concerning them since then is to call them "near democrats."
